S. R. DAY, AGENT. St. Albans, Vt. June, 1868.

Georgia Seymourists and the White and Colored Republicans.

The New Haven Palladium gives the following extracts from a private letter written by a member of the Georgia Legislature whose trust-worthiness it endorses, though for reasons withholding the name:

It is now about a week since we had up the subject of expelling the negro members from the House. We go and hear speech after speech, but all to no purpose; the Democrats are determined to turn them out. The House is nearly equally divided, and while some of the Republicans were absent a bill was introduced to expel twenty-four colored members. At the same time it was de-cided that the members on trial could not vote on their own case. Taking out these twenty-four Republicans gives the Democrats a large majority.

During this long discussion the Democrats sit day after day talking and reading, never hearing a word of what is said. This has been the case until today when H. M. Turner (colored) got the floor. Such speech as he made I never heard before. It was eloquent never heard before. It was eloquent and sublime. He spoke almost three hours and I never heard a people get such a rasping as he gave the white race in this country. He told them of all the meanness they had been guilty of. How, when a slave, they had taken him out and whipped him for praying at the bedside of a friend who was then about to die. How he got his education while others slept. "Now," said he, "I will make the proposition to every member of this house that I will read the Bible in more languages than you can, Bible in more languages than you can, if you will agree to leave this hall or I will go out if you can read it in more languages than I can." Turner reads in English, Latin, Greek and Hebrew. What effect Turner's speech will have in this House I know not, but there is one thing certain, when the negroes are turned out, there will be no more Democratic negroes in Georgia. Besides this, it will be hard to get them to vote for any white man after this. In all the section of country where I live the negroes outnumber ustwo to one. Most of these colored members are good speakers, and when they leave this House will take the stump for Grant and Colfax. I hardly know what to do when it comes to vote; perhaps, as I cannot accomplish anything, I had better not vote to all.

* * * Republican

members say that their lives will be in danger when they return home if they SUGAR CURED HAMS vote to let the negroes stay in their seats. Should Seymour and Blair be elected I do not think it will be safe for a Republican to live in Middle Georgia.

Every Democratic victory is looked upon here as an indorsement of secession FRESH FISH. and a condemnation of the war on the part of the Union States.

Well, just as I expected, the deed is done. At an afternoon session yesterday, twenty-four members were turned HADDOCK. out for no other reason than that they persons of color. advisable not to vote, as it might get me into trouble and could do good. Nothing could have been done to cause more bad feeling between the races than this act. I know there is not a negro in Atlanta but thinks all who voted to turn # them out are guilty of perjury."

Curiosities of Sleep.

In Turkey, if a man falls asleep in the neighborhood of a poppy field, and the wind blows toward him, he becomes narcotized, and would die if the country people, who are well acquainted with the circumstances, did not bring THE PEOPLE'S DRUG STORE! with the circumstances, did not bring to the next well or stream, and THE PEOPLE'S DRUG STORE!

In the circumstances, and not bring thim to the next well or stream, and empty pitcher after pitcher of water on his face and body, Dr. Appenheim, during his residence in Turkey, owed his life to this simple and efficacious treatment. Dr. Graves, from whom this anecdote is quoted, also reports the case of a gentleman 30 years of age, who, from long-continued sleepiness, was reduced to a complete living skeleton, unable to stand on his legs, It was partly owing to disease, but chiefly to the abuse of opium, until at last unable to pursue his business, he sank into object poverty and woe. Dr. Ried mentions a friend of his who, whenever anything occurred to distress him, soon became drowsy and fell asleep. A student at Edinburg, upon hearing suddenly of the unexpected death of a near relative, threw himself on a bed and almost instantaneously, amid the glare of noonday, sank into a profound slumber. Another person amid the glare of noonday, sank into a profound slumber. Another person, reading to one of his dearest friends stretched on his death-bed, fell fast asleep, and, with the book still in his hand, went on reading, utterly unconscious of what he was doing. A woman at Hamadt slept 17 or 18 hours a day for 15 years. Another is recorded to have slept once in tour days. Dr. Mancish mentions a woman who spent three-fourths of her life in sleep, and Dr. Elliotson quotes a case of a young lady who slept for six weeks and recovered. The venerfor six weeks and recovered. The venerable St. Augustine, of Hippo, prudently divided his hours into three parts—eight to be devoted to sleep, eight to meditation, and eight to converse with the world. Maniacs are reported, particularly in the eastern hemisphere, to become furiously vigilant during the full of the moon, more especially when the deteriorating rays of its polarized light are permitted to fall into their apartment,—hence the name of lunatics.
